THE DRAGON'S SENSES

A STUDY OF SIGHT, HEARING & SMELL

MUCH HAS BEEN WRITTEN of the dragon's astonishing eyesight. Our own vision is so limited by comparison, that it is hard to imagine the world as beheld by dragons. They can observe a scene many miles away in perfect focus and possess the facility to see the full range of colours. What human eyes perceive as the sun's glare appears as sharply defined to the dragon. Naturally, their night vision is also exceptional.

Dragon eyes come in every imaginable hue from forest-green and sky-blue, to copper, bronze and burnished gold. It is a well-documented fact that it is very likely impossible, and certainly rather foolhardy, to hold the gaze of a dragon. Its stare is so penetrating and hypnotic, that it has the effect of placing the viewer in a trance from which they are unlikely to recover.

UNEARTHLY PERCEPTION

Although not in the same league as their eyesight, a dragon's hearing and sense of smell are not to be underestimated. Dragons can discern sounds well outside the human range, and have been known to respond to courting calls over fifty miles away. Similarly, dragons can detect and decode scents carried on the wind over vast distances. Although barely understood, it is evident that dragons also possess a sixth sense. A case in point would be their uncanny ability to seek out gold and precious stones hidden from view.

The protective thorn-like eyelashes of the SICKLE-CLAWED FOREST DRAGON.

Many water species possess a "second eye" - a translucent protective covering that allows these dragons to see underwater.

The uniquely-shaped eye pupil of the BLACK BOG DRAGON.

The vertical eye pupil of the TRIPLE-HORNED NIGHT DRAGON.

2. Text mark – think aloud

Uncle nasty - calls her Dog that's not right! Also Dogs frightened of him. For sure I like this! Uncle is boddy in story. In pet shop - so dog lets animals out of cages cos she likes them. They go back in when told!!! Fran-tic-ally DOES IT MEAN QUICKLY??!

Makes me predict (Jason Y6) What animal is it? Some kind of bird. Esmee has claws... could be a... bird?

There was definitely not dead. All the animals were in shock. At once, the TV upstairs fell silent and Uncle's footsteps crossed the floor. If Uncle came down and found everyone out, free in the shop, Dog didn't want to imagine what might happen. Squawwwwwwwwwokkkkk! The sound came again, even louder than before. Tiny feet pattered and wings fluttered as all the animals fled towards their cages. Even with everyone back behind bars, Dog knew that Uncle would still be furious at being disturbed and she would be blamed, because she hadn't "sorted out" the strange parcel. Dog rushed over to the box. Whatever it was inside, it must be made to shut up. Frantically she ripped away the string and paper. The box had fallen so that the lid was at the side. Dog pulled at it, and Esmee scrabbled at the edge, trying to lever it up with her long claws. From upstairs there were the unmistakable sounds of Uncle getting ready to come down! Then, suddenly, with a sigh and creak, the lid lifted and a cloud of sawdust spilled onto the pet-shop floor. In the middle of it, something was flailing about, making that terrible, terrible noise, louder still now without the box to muffle it. Squawwwwwwwwwokkkkk! Desperate to make it shut up, Dog simply jumped on the whatever it was, pinning it to the floor. It gave one last Screeeeeeeet! and was silent. Dog lay there with sawdust up her nose and in her eyes, listening. Footsteps came to the top of the stairs, then stopped. There was a pause that seemed to last for hours. All the animals held their breath... The footsteps retreated, the TV blared out again.

I have sawdust for my hamster. ??!! I'm think! Will Uncle wake up. Ha ha... yuck that happened to me! so uncle won come down. I got mixed up here at first but I animal paws pause... so read it again to fix it.
