

Seasides Past and Present

Task

Today, you are going to be looking at seashores around the United Kingdom. With an adult, you can use webcams and watch different beaches live around the country. I have attached a link, however you can google specific beaches and check to see if they have a webcam you can look at.

Near the end, there are photographs for you to look at and compare. As you have a look:

- try and describe what the differences are.
- Is there anything surprising in the photograph.
- What are the people doing in the photograph?
- What are the buildings, clothes, food, activities like?
- Can you spot any key features in the photographs that you looked at in the last session?

Seasides of the UK

How many countries are there in the UK?

What are they called?

What are the capital cities?

How many did you guess?

Can you point on the map where you live?

Have you visited
any seaside towns/resorts in these countries?

Watch a Webcam

Using the Internet, you are going to watch what is happening at different seaside resorts (please do this with an adult).

What questions could you ask to find out more about what is happening at these places? For example:

What is the weather like?

What jobs do people do here?

What activities can people do for leisure here?

Where might people be going in this picture?

Victorian Seaside Holidays

Seaside holidays back then were very different. Most Victorians would go to a British seaside, such as Blackpool because flying to another country wasn't an option.

They believed that the seaside air was good for you.

Some beaches were divided for men and women.

Sunbathing wasn't in fashion back then, so the Victorians would go to the beach fully clothed. 'Sea bathing' was done instead.

Beaches were a lot cleaner back then as there weren't as many packaged foods and snacks.

Now and Then

★ Now and Then Seaside Sorting

Sort the photographs into those which show seaside resorts in the past and those which show seaside resorts today.
