Once is Enough!

Today, we are learning to write words that contain aw saying /or/.

A cartoon illustration of a young boy with brown hair, wearing a yellow t-shirt, blue jeans, and blue sneakers. He is pointing his right index finger towards the words on the right. A speech bubble originates from him, containing the text 'Let's practise reading some of this weeks focus words that contain the aw sound.'

Let's practise reading some of this weeks focus words that contain the aw sound.

Dad, Mum, Sam and Kit were in the zero gravity chamber. They all started lifting into the air. “Wow this feels so strange!” shouted Mum over the loud whirring noise. “I feel so light and free!” replied Kit.

After a few minutes, Kit and Sam gained a bit more confidence and floated off from Mum and Dad. Kit did a forward roll in the air and Sam did star jumps while she was floating! Mum and Dad were still holding hands. Mum looked a little bit green.

A Dizzy Feeling

Mum is feeling a bit dizzy. She closes her eyes and imagines items floating past. Can you look at the pictures and write down the aw word?

"I think I need to get out of here!" shouted Mum.

"I'm also ready for solid ground," said Dad, helping Mum hold onto the rail.

Kit and Sam enjoyed their last few minutes. The loud whirring got quieter and everyone gradually sunk to the floor.

"I want to do it again!" cried Kit. Sam nodded, smiling wide.
"Oh, that was quite enough for me! I'm glad you had fun though," said Mum, sipping water.
"I'm also glad but once is enough for me too," laughed Dad.

“Who would like a family astronaut picture?” asked the guide.
“OK, then we can get out of these suits!” said Mum cheerily.
“Smile!” called the guide. The camera flashed. “Now you can tell all of your friends that you have been into space!”

“What an awesome picture of us as astronauts!” said Sam.
Mum saw Kit yawn and said, “Well, my two astronauts, you must be very tired after all that floating around!”
